[I] 次の対話文の空所 (A)~(J) を補うのに最も適切なものを、1)~10) の中から1つずつ選び、番号で答えなさい。(同一の選択肢を複数回用いてはなりません。)

Amy: Thanks for coming with me today, Yun.
Yun: (A) I love flea markets but going alone is not much fun.
Amy: (B) That's why I wanted you to come with me.
Yun: Are you looking for anything special?
Amy: I'd like to have a lamp or a lantern for my room. (C)
Yun: (Showing Amy a photo) A frame for this photo.
Amy: (D) Who's this?
Yun: (E) I haven't been able to go back to China for three years, so I haven't met him yet. But I'm planning to go back with Mom this summer. (F)
Amy: (Walking toward some lanterns) What do you think of those lanterns?
Yun: They're Chinese. You can get new ones much cheaper in China. (G)
Amy: Really? Thanks. Then let's go and look for your photo frame. (Walking toward some frames on the table) How about these?
Yun: (H) I'd like a decorative one.
Amy: Let's see if someone has a decorative frame.
(Yun and Amy walk around for some time.)
Yun: Hey, Amy! I found one I want. But it's a bit pricy.
Amy: (I)
Yun: 2,000 yen. Should I get it now, or look around some more?
Amy: We've already looked around quite a lot. (J)

[II] 次の英文を読み、設問 1、2 に答えなさい。

Tutankhamen lived over 3,300 years ago, so it's very hard to be sure exactly what happened. He was probably the son of a pharaoh called Akhenaten. When Akhenaten died, Tutankhamen was next in line to the throne. He was only about nine years old, so Egypt was probably ruled by a grown-up on his behalf until he was old enough to rule on his own. Tutankhamen reigned for about nine years and, from examining his mummy, we know that he had a disease called malaria.

Some people have suggested that his advisor, Ay, who became pharaoh after he died, had him killed, but most people think that he died of natural causes. We know from his skeleton that he badly broke his leg shortly before he died, and that the injury became infected. There were no antibiotics like we have today, so an injury like that could kill you. This, and the malaria he suffered from, probably caused his death.
